

CONTENTS

PART II

TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE CHAPTERS

PART II

TECHNICAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE CHAPTERS

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I

THE MOBILIZATION AND IMPROVISATION OF THE SOUTH AFRICAN FIELD FORCE

	PAGE
The Regular Army. Strength since 1814. Growth of the Reserves . . . . .	233-236
Mobilization Schemes. The Stanhope Memorandum, 1888 . . . . .	236-239
The Mobilization Department and the South African Field Force . . . . .	239-243
Preparations for war. The first reinforcements. Success of the mobilization . . . . .	243-247
Further reinforcements. Remainder of the Reserve called out . . . . .	247-249
Total strength of Regular forces sent out . . . . .	249-250
The supply and despatch of drafts . . . . .	250-257
Home defence measures. The Royal Reservists. Increase of Regular Army. Re-enlistment for general service. Provisional units . . . . .	257-260
Recruiting . . . . .	260
Dearth of officers. Increase of commissions . . . . .	261-262
The Militia. Strength on embodiment October 26, 1899. Service in South Africa. Disembodied July, 1901 . . . . .	262-266
Relief battalions and drafts sent out. Total embodiment. Recruiting. Officers. Quality of the Militia . . . . .	266-268
Imperial Yeomanry and Volunteers sanctioned . . . . .	268
Yeomanry organization and terms of enlistment. Total strength. Three contingents sent out. . . . .	269-272
Volunteers. Organization and strength. Details and strength of corps . . . . .	272-273
Subsequent contingents . . . . .	274
Increase in recruiting . . . . .	275
Colonial contingents. South African corps. Irregular corps. Conditions of service . . . . .	275-277
Strength of the various contingents . . . . .	277-278
Summary of forces sent to, or raised, in South Africa. . . . .	278-279
Demobilization . . . . .	278-279
Inadequacy of War Office staff. The plague of questions . . . . .	280-281

CHAPTER II

THE SEA TRANSPORT OF THE ARMY

	PAGE
A good piece of work . . . . .	282
Admiralty transport organization. The first reinforcements .	283-284
Naval Transport Staff. Appointment of Sir Edward Chichester.	284-285
The transport of the Army Corps. The transport fleet . . .	285-287
The South African ports. The work of disembarkation. Attitude of the harbour boards . . . . .	287-291
Unemployed transports. Desertion. Transports for Boer pri- soners . . . . .	291-292
Return of the Army, 1902. . . . .	292
The magnitude of the transport work . . . . .	293-294
South Africa's shipping resources . . . . .	295
Lessons of the war . . . . .	295-296

CHAPTER III

THE RAILWAY WORK IN THE WAR

The Railways of South Africa . . . . .	297-301
British and Boer systems strategically compared . . . . .	301-302
Railway control in time of war . . . . .	303-305
British military railway organization, 1899 . . . . .	306-307
Colonel Girouard's scheme. Railway staff officers. Financial arrangements. The working of captured lines. The Railway Pioneer Regiment. Success of the system . . . . .	307-312
Lord Roberts's concentration. Repair work on the western line. Communication established with Bloemfontein . . . . .	312-315
The Imperial Military Railways . . . . .	315-316
The organization in Natal . . . . .	316-317
The advance to Pretoria. The work of keeping the line clear. Progress on other lines . . . . .	317-320
The Netherlands Railway Company's obstructive attitude. Delagoa Bay line captured. . . . .	320-322
Boer use of the railways. Boer repair and demolition work; the railway shops . . . . .	322-327
The Railway organization until the peace . . . . .	327-328
Troop movements. Boer attacks on the line. Armoured trains.	328-331

CHAPTER IV

THE ENGINEER WORK

Engineering and modern war . . . . .	332-333
R.E. organization in South Africa . . . . .	333-334
Work of the fortress companies. Evolution of defences . . .	334-336
Field companies and their work. Mounted Engineers. Cutting communications. The work of demolition . . . . .	336-341

	PAGE
Bridging . . . . .	341-343
Ballooning . . . . .	343-345
Electric lighting. Searchlights . . . . .	345-348
Steam road transport . . . . .	348-350
Survey and mapping work. Photographic reconnaissance work.	350-354
Telegraphs and telephones . . . . .	354-361
The Boer field telegraphs . . . . .	362-363
Total strength sent out . . . . .	363

CHAPTER V

SUPPLY AND TRANSPORT

Organization of the supply and transport service at home and in the field before the war . . . . .	364-371
South African transport conditions. The ox versus the mule . . . . .	371-374
Preparations for the war. Early despatch of the Army Service Corps. Its personnel . . . . .	374-379
Situation on outbreak of war. Initial problems dealt with . . . . .	380-385
Lord Roberts's reorganization of the transport . . . . .	385-391
The march to Bloemfontein. Advance to Pretoria and Komati-poort . . . . .	391-396
The guerilla war; reorganization of supply and transport . . . . .	396-397
Local requisitioning. . . . .	397-399
The military farms. The detective staff. The Field Force canteen . . . . .	399-400
Quality of supplies . . . . .	401-402
Coloured personnel employed. Purchases of mules . . . . .	402-403
Total supplies sent to South Africa . . . . .	403-404
The surplus war stores. The system of sale and repurchase. The Royal Commission . . . . .	404-407
Experiences of the war. Accounting in the field . . . . .	407-410

CHAPTER VI

THE REMOUNT DEPARTMENT

Organization of the Remount Department in 1899 . . . . .	411-415
Measures taken on the outbreak of war . . . . .	415-417
The supply of animals. Their quality . . . . .	417-421
Criticism of the Department . . . . .	421-422
Experiences of the war. The supply of horses . . . . .	422-427
Embarkation depots. . . . .	427-428
Transport by sea and rail . . . . .	428-430
The work of the Department in South Africa. Details of remount work in the field . . . . .	430-444
Lessons of the war . . . . .	444-445

CHAPTER VII

THE WORK OF THE ARMY ORDNANCE DEPARTMENT

	PAGE
Duties of the Department. The ordnance depots and factories.
Personnel of the A.O.D. . . . . .	446-450
Inadequacy of the reserve of stores and ammunition . . . . .	450-452
Total quantities sent out . . . . .	452-453
The organization in South Africa at different periods . . . . .	453-457
The need of ordnance officers in the field . . . . .	457-458
Local purchases. The ordnance workshops. Mounting of guns.
Miscellaneous tasks . . . . .	458-461
Store accounts. Demobilization. Conclusion . . . . .	461-464

CHAPTER VIII

THE ARMAMENT AND EMPLOYMENT OF THE ARTILLERY

British Artillery organization, 1899 . . . . .	465
War establishments. Armament. Ammunition. Colonial and other field artillery. Heavy guns . . . . .	465-467, 470
Tables of British and Boer artillery. Features of the guns. The "Pom-pom" . . . . .	468-476
Experiences and lessons of the war . . . . .	476-490
Ammunition expenditure . . . . .	490-493
Progress of armaments since the war . . . . .	493-498

CHAPTER IX

THE MEDICAL SERVICES DURING THE WAR

Organization of the various Services . . . . .	499-509
Scheme of Field Organization, 1899. The various units . . . . .	509-511
Arrangements in England and in South Africa. Heterogeneous character of the various corps. The staff . . . . .	511-515
Organization at Ladysmith, Kimberley, and Mafeking, and in Natal. Special corps. Arrangements in Cape Colony; difficulties in supplying field units to the forces . . . . .	515-521
The hospitals. Mr. Burdett-Coutts's criticisms. The Royal Commission's report . . . . .	521-527
Arrangements during the war. Summary of the units organized.
The Colonial Medical Services. The Red Cross Society and the various private hospitals. Other services. Consulting surgeons . . . . .	527-537
The Boer Medical Services . . . . .	533-539
Lessons of the war. Mr. Brodrick's reforms . . . . .	539-543

CHAPTER X

THE ADMINISTRATION OF MARTIAL LAW IN THE BRITISH COLONIES

	PAGE
Definition and object of Martial Law. Previous enforcement in British colonies. . . . .	544-547
Proclaimed in Natal, Zululand, and parts of Cape Colony, October, 1899 . . . . .	547
Sir R. Buller's memorandum, December 7, 1899. Administration in early part of the war . . . . .	547-550
Issue of second memorandum, January, 1900. Enforcement extended in Cape Colony . . . . .	550-551
End of the first rebellion. Treatment of rebels. Martial law withdrawn in many districts . . . . .	551-554
The Indemnity Act, October, 1900 . . . . .	554-555
Measures taken in Natal . . . . .	555-556
The second rebellion. Further proclamation in Cape Colony. Instructions to administrators, February, May, 1901. The military courts . . . . .	556-559
Beneficial effect of increased severity of martial law. Cape ports included, October, 1901 . . . . .	559-560
Martial Law Board established in Cape Colony . . . . .	561-562
Change in system of administration, December, 1901. Method of dealing with offences . . . . .	562-564
Requisitioning of animals, supplies, etc. . . . .	565
Check on inhabitants and on "prohibited goods" for the Boers. Other regulations. Their good effect . . . . .	565-569
End of martial law. The Royal Commission and the Act of Indemnity, November, 1902 . . . . .	569-571
Conclusion . . . . .	571-572

CHAPTER XI

THE MILITARY ADMINISTRATION OF OCCUPIED TERRITORY

Rules laid down by the Hague Conference, 1899 . . . . .	573-574
The military administration of the Orange Free State. General Pretzman appointed Military Governor. The various departments. Municipal affairs. The country districts. Collapse of the administration, September, November, 1900. Civil administration January, 1901. The S.A.C. Lessons . . . . .	574-588
The military administration of the Transvaal. The occupation and police administration of Johannesburg. Outside districts. Justice. Native affairs. Civil Supplies Department. Other departments. Municipal affairs. The rest of the Transvaal. . . . .	588-603

CHAPTER XII

FINANCE

	PAGE
Causes of the heavy cost of the war. War Office control of its funds . . . . .	603-605
Total cost of the war. How it was met . . . . .	605-607
Payment in the field and compensation claims . . . . .	607-608
Army finance. Preparation of estimates. Audit. The Contracts Department . . . . .	608-610
Organization in the districts. Powers of the military commander . . . . .	610-612
Lack of preparation for financial control at the seat of war . . . . .	612
Lord Kitchener's system of control . . . . .	612-613
The disposal of supplies after the peace . . . . .	613-616
Accounting in the field . . . . .	616-618
Lessons of the war. The need of expert financial advisers. The training of officers. The control of army expenditure. . . . .	618-622

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Rembrandt Photogravure Plates

THE RIGHT HON. ST. JOHN BRODRICK (NOW VISCOUNT MIDLETON)	Frontispiece
MAJOR-GENERAL SIR W. F. KELLY . . . . .	To face page 256
REAR-ADMIRAL SIR EDWARD CHICHESTER . . . . .	288
LIEUT.-COLONEL SIR E. P. C. GIROUARD . . . . .	320
COLONEL SIR W. D. RICHARDSON. . . . .	368
COLONEL SIR E. W. D. WARD . . . . .	400
LIEUT.-GENERAL SIR W. G. NICHOLSON . . . . .	432
MAJOR-GENERAL SIR ELLIOTT WOOD AND MAJOR-GENERAL SIR G. H. MARSHALL . . . . .	480
LIEUT.-COLONEL R. L. HIPPISELY; LIEUT.-COLONEL D. HENDERSON SURGEON-GENERAL SIR W. D. WILSON; COLONEL W. H. BIRKBECK . . . . .	528

THE RIGHT HON. ST. JOHN BRODRICK, (NOW VISCOUNT MIDDLETON),
SECRETARY OF STATE FOR WAR, 1900-1908.
Photo by Elliott & Fry.